

My stories

❶ Think of six important, good events in your life.

Write 1-2 words for each event. Chose 1-2 events. Draw a simple pictures.

A 2x3 grid of six empty rounded rectangular boxes, each with a double-line border, intended for drawing and writing. The boxes are arranged in two rows and three columns.

❷ Work with a partner. Tell the story about each picture.

Partner, ask questions. That will help the speaker remember the story better.

If there is time, change partners. Tell your stories again.

(Note: If you have a grandma or grandpa, this is a great activity to do with them. Have them draw and tell you their story. It is good for their memory and happiness.) Based on an idea from Emily Willroth, Dept. of Psychological & Brain Sciences, Washington Univ.
